

HELLO, HALCYON CITY!

Politics

Candidates are gathering signatures to get on the ballot for the mayoral election. Mayor Jessica Goodwin will be stepping aside to spend more time with her family. The field is wide open for new leadership in the coming years.

Police Beat

The police department is looking for new recruits. HCPD is facing a severe shortage of officers in the wake of a budget crisis and corruption scandal. Apply in-person at police headquarters downtown or through the online portal.

Around Town

Gigabite, a new cyber-cafe is hosting their grand opening this Saturday. Stop in and get an Insta-worthy pastry you can post using their free wifi. This Saturday only, get a free latte when you mention the promo code CAFFEINATE.

River Flooding Danger

Residents of the Sugarfield Valley neighborhood are being advised to make a plan for possible emergency evacuation. The banks of the Placid River have been rising for several weeks and the next storm is likely to cause dangerous flooding. Roads near the river could be washed out, homes and property damaged, and unsafe conditions are likely for anyone remaining in the area if an evacuation order is given.

Local Heroes on Tour

Members of the hero team, Band of 9 Exemplars are set to embark on a cross country tour. They will be speaking at schools, giving demonstrations of their powers, and meeting with government and lawmaking officials around the country. We will do our best to maintain order in their absence.

Is The Primordial back? Several unconfirmed reports have been called in to authorities of possible sightings of the mysterious and unpredictable villain. Stay tuned...

Chefs Rebuilding After Tragedy

I caught up with local chef team Ernesto and Erica Montez to talk about their latest project. After their beloved restaurant Stone Soup was lost six months ago to a mysterious fire - still under investigation - they say they were at a total loss. But now they are almost ready to unveil their new project. They wouldn't divulge many details, but did hint that Halcyon City foodies should be on the lookout for a food truck hitting the streets soon.

Ernesto and Erica in their kitchen

A New Generation of Heroes is Making Waves

In the next few issues we will be following the activities of some of our city's younger masked champions. Contact us with any tips! (Secret identities will be kept confidential)

Holler Out Halcyon Dates Announced June 9-11

We are gearing up for Holler Out Halcyon Fest at the New Era Convention Center! See 26 musical acts on 4 stages over the three day festival. Local artists and restaurants will be participating to make this a great time for everyone. Tickets on sale now.

Headliners:

- Friday - Meek and Mild, Deacon Smart, Fester
- Saturday - Ophelia Hightower, ZeV22, MC S-Sure
- Sunday - The Mindys, Politburo (feat. Geostorm), Vincent Killroy

